Oerlikon Metco Announces Launch of E-Commerce Site, myMetco.oerlikon.com

Westbury, NY — May 11, 2020 — Oerlikon Metco, a global leading surface and materials solutions provider, strengthens their powerhouse position with the launch of myMetco, a webstore sales channel to provide their customers with a seamless purchasing experience and greater efficiencies.

myMetco is currently exclusive to the US market and features more than 40 industry standard Thermal Spray and Additive Manufacturing powders which will be expanded continually to bring a wider selection to customers. This site will feature a unique assortment of the most sought-after materials for their solutions with the same values that Oerlikon Metco is known for.

Customers will be able to benefit from:

- Current product pricing and availability
- Strong product search and compare capabilities
- Free access to expert product technical support
- Increase in efficiency with quick order and 24/7 shopping service
- Easily tracked orders and order fulfillment online

"We at Oerlikon Metco are continuing to initiate new strategic methods focused around serving the domestic market with greater accessibility and service," said Richard Farbaniec, Vice President, Head of Sales – Americas. "The myMetco e-commerce site is our next step in this process. This has been a collaborative project our team has been working on for quite some time. With our focus to continue growing a long-lasting relationship with our consumers, collecting ideas from everybody surely made our new platform possible," continues Richard.

"Digital sales and online buyers are constantly growing year-by-year. It is important to everyone here at Oerlikon Metco that we continue to research and study industry trends to formulate a better customer experience to purchase our products," said Liana Vinokur, Director of Commercial Excellence for Oerlikon Metco.
